

MICHELLE BURKE PARISH, MA

Michelle Burke Parish is a project manager in clinical research at the University of California, Davis, in the Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences. Mrs. Burke Parish has a Master's Degree in Counseling Psychology and is a Doctor of Philosophy student in Nursing Science and Healthcare Leadership at UC Davis. She has conducted research in clinical psychology, neuroscience and telepsychiatry, e-health and primary care psychiatry. She is a contributing author in the area of telemedicine, e-health and applications of social media in healthcare. She is currently working with Dr. Robert McCarron and the TNT Primary Care Psychiatry team on research outcomes and program evaluation for the primary care psychiatry fellowship.